Open House Day for Inha University Students

2022 20 May

On May 5, 2022, Uzbekistan Airways held an open day for students of Inha University in Tashkent. The next meeting was devoted to the peculiarities of cargo transportation. As part of the event, Sultansaid Agzamkhodzhaev spoke about the transportation of large and small-sized cargo, the delivery of food and animals, the receipt of cargo, and about special categories of cargo from senders.

And also, the students learned on what structure the airline's cargo transportation department works, what types of aircraft are part of its fleet, and also visited the Boeing 767 cargo, where the aircraft engineer showed by example how the board is prepared for the flight.
