December 7th – International Civil Aviation Day

2024 7 December

Today we celebrate a day dedicated to those who are in love with the sky. On the International Civil Aviation Day, we congratulate all the specialists and experts in the field, thanks to whom our flights become a reality.

We thank the pilots, flight attendants, air traffic controllers, mechanics and all employees whose efforts ensure safety and comfort in the sky. Your professionalism is the key to our safe and comfortable flights.
