Uzbekistan Airways Supports Active Lifestyles and Eco-Conscious Thinking

2025 19 May

On Saturday, May 17, employees of Uzbekistan Airways spent the day outdoors on an exhilarating hike through the scenic Koksu Gorge.

But this was more than just a walk in nature – the route was filled with exciting challenges and steep climbs that tested endurance and brought the team even closer together. Adventures like these strengthen bonds, inspire, and recharge our energy.

What made this outing especially meaningful was our unwavering commitment to environmental responsibility. Whether in the office, in the mountains, or at an event, we always treat nature with care, striving to leave only positive traces behind.

Organized with the support of the trade union committee and Uzbekistan Airways, the hike was part of our corporate culture that values not only professional excellence, but also team spirit, healthy living, and respect for the environment.

This day served as a powerful reminder: every step we take together brings us closer – not only to new heights, but also to our shared goals.
