Uzbekistan Airways Hosts Business Meeting “Tourism on the Wings of Central Asia”

2025 6 August

On August 6, 2025, Uzbekistan’s national carrier, Uzbekistan Airways, held a business meeting with travel agencies under the theme “Tourism on the Wings of Central Asia.”

The event served as a significant platform for strengthening partnerships with tourism industry professionals and discussing opportunities for collaboration in passenger transportation and the promotion of tourism destinations.

The meeting began with a morning welcome coffee, offering attendees the chance to connect in an informal setting and establish new business contacts.

The airline’s management welcomed guests with opening remarks, emphasizing the importance of joint efforts with the tourism community to support the development of air tourism across the region. This was followed by a detailed presentation highlighting Uzbekistan Airways’ current capabilities and route network, fare structure, and new destinations.

Special attention was given to collaboration tools and customer-oriented services, aimed at expanding opportunities for travel agencies and tour operators — from convenient sales technology to marketing support and information about the airline’s corporate loyalty program.

The event concluded with an open discussion, during which participants asked questions, exchanged ideas, and explored key topics for future cooperation. As a final touch, prizes were raffled off among the guests.

This business meeting marked an important milestone in Uzbekistan Airways’ strategy to deepen cooperation with the tourism sector and jointly develop air travel across Central Asia.
