

Flight attendants of Uzbekistan Airways JSC took part in a creative anti-corruption challenge

2025 3 December

In the run-up to International Anti-Corruption Day, as part of the 'Month of Anti-Corruption' among flight attendants of Uzbekistan Airways JSC, a creative challenge 'We are for integrity!', 'We are against corruption' was held. The aim of the initiative is to strengthen a corporate culture of honesty, raise employees' awareness of the law and foster a sense of personal responsibility for preventing corruption.

As part of the challenge, participants presented posters reflecting the importance of transparency, anti-corruption ethics and zero tolerance for violations. The management of the Flight Attendant Service Department held a discussion among flight attendants on the need to comply with the Code of Corporate Ethics and the Anti-Corruption Policy of the company, which ensure the integrity of its employees.

The flight attendants demonstrated active involvement in the discussion of current issues, as well as a deep understanding of the subject matter, showing that the fight against corruption begins with personal values and daily professional decisions.
