Uzbekistan Airways moves to Beijing Daxing Airport

2026 23 February

Starting March 30, with the beginning of the spring-summer season, Uzbekistan Airways will operate flights to/from Beijing Daxing International Airport (PKX) instead of Beijing Capital International Airport (PEK).

We kindly ask passengers to take this change into account when planning their trip and to check the departure and arrival terminal information in advance.

Flights from Tashkent to Beijing will operate on Mondays and Thursdays, with an increase in flight frequency to follow. The current schedule and tickets are available on the website booking.uzairways.com and in the app.