New Horizons of Comfort: Pay for Uzbekistan Airways Tickets and Services via WeChat

2026 1 May

The national airline, Uzbekistan Airways, is continuously working to make your travels even more convenient and accessible. We strive to implement advanced digital solutions that save your time and provide confidence at every stage of trip planning, wherever you may be.

We are pleased to announce that a new option is now available to our passengers — fast and secure payment for air tickets and additional airline services using the popular international platform, WeChat. All transactions within this system are processed directly in CNY (Yuan), making the purchasing process as transparent and comfortable as possible for the service users.

We understand the importance of having familiar and reliable financial tools at your fingertips in today’s dynamic world. Integration with the WeChat payment system is another significant step by the airline toward innovation, making the booking of your next trip a matter of just a few minutes.

Experience new standards of convenience, plan your routes with ease, and discover the world with us.
