

A festive promotion from Uzbekistan Airways: a discount up to 15% for the flight tickets!

2026 30 September

We are glad to announce a special offer, dedicated to the magnificent holiday! Exclusively for one day, on the first of October of the year 2026, we present a discount up to 15% for the flights.

For the maximum convenience of the passengers, we structured the rules and the conditions of the application of the promotion. Please, carefully become acquainted with the rules before the purchase:

The main conditions:

- The period of the conduction of the promotion (of the purchase): exclusively on the first of October of the year 2026.
- The period of the flights: is not limited! The issuance of the tickets is permitted for the entire depth of the published schedule (the term of the validity of the transportation is determined by the rules of the chosen tariff).
- The destinations: all the regular flights, where the airline acts as the operator, including the intra-republican and the low-budget flights.

For whom the discount is valid:

- For the adults: up to 15% from the tariff.
- For the children (from two to 12 years of age) and the children up to two years of age (with a separate seat): up to 15% from the published tariff in addition to the already established discount for the children.
- For the children up to two years of age (without the provision of a seat): the given discount is not applied.
- Important: the combination of the festive discount with other discounts is prohibited (with the exception of the discount for the children). The discount is permitted for all the published individual tariffs of the economy class and of the business class, and also for the tariffs of the through transportation upon the own flights of the airline.

Where it is possible to issue a flight ticket according to the promotion:

- Upon the official website of the airline (the discount will apply within an automatic mode).
- Upon the territory of the Republic of Uzbekistan: within the branch of Uzbekistan Airways Sales and at the agents of the branch (the issuance within a manual mode with the application of the discount up to 15% in addition to the established discount for the children of 25%).
- Abroad: exclusively within the own network of sales (at the agents working with Uzbekistan Airways exclusively according to the direct agency agreements).
- A note for the partners: the promotion does not extend to the agents of the Billing and Settlement Plan. The commission remuneration according to the promotional tickets is provisioned within the established order.

The rules of the return, of the rebooking, and of the reissuance:

- Upon the return, the rebooking, or the reissuance, the discount is not applied to the collected fees for the given operations, and also to the penalties for a no-show. For the children, the fees are collected within the established order (with a discount up to 25%).
- Upon the calculation of the amount of the return for a partially utilized ticket: the tariff upon the utilized segment without the consideration of the festive discount is subtracted from the amount.
- Upon the reissuance or the rebooking of a completely unutilized promotional ticket: an additional collection to the full level of the tariff (without the application of the discounts) will be required.
 - The exceptions: the elevation of the class of the service for the accumulated points to the class Z, and also the reissuance of the tickets within the framework of the policy of the change of the name (the alteration of the first name, of the last name, and of the passport data).
- Upon the reissuance or the rebooking of a partially utilized promotional ticket: the recalculation is produced for the date of the issuance of the ticket (that is with the preservation of the discount).
- If on the first of October of the year 2026 you decide to reissue or to rebook a ticket, purchased earlier (before the beginning of the promotion), the festive discount is not applied to the ticket.

The exceptions (to what the discount does not extend):

- To the flights of the joint exploitation (Code Share) and the tariffs within the framework of the commercial agreements (Special Prorate Agreements).
- To the flights of Uzbekistan Helicopters and of Silkavia.
- To the flight tickets, issued within the framework of the contracts for the provision of a block of seats, and also to the group reservations.

Plan the journeys advantageously together with Uzbekistan Airways!
