

One team. One goal. One spirit: the sporting traditions and the corporate culture of Uzbekistan Airways

2026 30 September

An absolute cohesion lies at the foundation of the stable work and of the high achievements of the civil aviation. For Uzbekistan Airways, the development of a strong corporate culture, the strengthening of the internal connections, and the support of a healthy way of life of the employees are the most important priorities.

A recent friendly meeting concerning volleyball between the teams of the Joint Stock Company of Uzbekistan Airways and of the Limited Liability Company of "Uzbekistan Airways Technics", which took place upon the base of the repair enterprise of Uzbekistan Airways Technics, became a visual confirmation of these values.

This event became significantly larger than merely a sporting competition. The platform transformed into a place of the celebration of the team spirit, of the mutual respect, and of the devotion to the common cause. A persistent struggle for every ball and a sporting excitement within the game harmoniously combined with a sincere friendship and a support beyond the limits of the court. The atmosphere of the tournament once again emphasized the unity of the large aviation family of the airline.

Every serve, a competent block, and a coordinated rally demonstrated the key principle of the work of the aviators: the true strength hides within trust, within mutual assistance, and within the aspiration toward a common goal. Exactly these qualities daily help the collective to ensure the safety of the flights, to maintain the flight readiness of the fleet, and to provide a high level of the service to the passengers of the airline.

Similar informal meetings erase the boundaries between the structural subdivisions, help the colleagues to become closer, and form a creative environment. We build a corporate culture within which there is a desire to work, to professionally develop, and to step together toward new altitudes.

Within sports and within aviation, not merely a team wins. Unity wins!
