

The certificate of the European Aviation Safety Agency is a confirmation of the highest level of quality, of safety, and of professionalism of Uzbekistan Airways Technics

2026 6 October

Uzbekistan Airways Technics (a structural subdivision of Uzbekistan Airways) shares an important achievement: "Within September of the year 2026, the team of the enterprise successfully passed the supervisory audit of the European Aviation Safety Agency, once again having confirmed the compliance to the strict European aviation requirements of Part 145.

Uzbekistan Airways Technics, this is not merely the result of a planned inspection. This is an official recognition of the fact that the system of the technical maintenance of the aircraft, the production processes, and the standards of quality respond to the highest requirements of the European aviation branch.

This success became a logical result of the daily work of every employee of Uzbekistan Airways Technics: of the professionalism, of the responsibility, of the strict observance of the established procedures, and of the continuous improvement.

The compliance to the standards of the European Aviation Safety Agency Part 145 firmly strengthens the positions of Uzbekistan Airways Technics as a reliable partner upon the international market of technical maintenance and opens new horizons for a cooperation. We continue to invest into the development of the competencies of the specialists of the enterprise and to elevate the level of the provided services, in order to exceed the expectations of the customers and to respond to the modern challenges of the global aviation.

The fundamental principles of the enterprise remain invariable:

- ☐ Quality is not a singular result, but a constant process.
- ☐ Safety is an absolute priority.
- ☐ The trust of the customers is the main indicator of the work of the collective.

Uzbekistan Airways Technics represents a quality, confirmed by the international standards!".

Uzbekistan Airways is proud of the professionalism of the colleagues of the airline and congratulates the team of Uzbekistan Airways Technics with this significant event!